Our radio station is opening

An amazing Website Team – Violet and Tessa, working hard to keep the website up-to-date and interesting

On Friday our Carterton Mayor, John Booth will be opening our students' radio station, 107.5DFM. Whānau are most welcome at 10:00 am on Friday morning to be part of this occasion. Students will be playing some of Mr Booth's favourite songs on Friday too!

Over the next weeks there will be interviews, stories and presentations from our students, appearing at regular times and their very own station website will host the live stream of DFM.

I am very proud of our students and they are forgiving me for the proliferation of 'dad' music at the moment that plays whilst they're not on air. Their own music programming will be rolled out over the coming months.
